Nice Gist! 😊 I have deployed an app that uses the Github Emoji API (<https://api.github.com/emojis>) so they are updated directly from Github and allows to search for them. Use it if you feel like! <https://github-emoji-list.herokuapp.com/> 🎧

I love this!

I made a version which lets you hover over an emoji to see its code. I also placed them in the header so they're larger and easier to see:

🔗 Comprehensive list of GitHub-supported emojis

Markdown is generated from an emojis.json file in this repository. Emojis are automatically sorted based on categories and Unicode order. When the build process is run, it also compares against the GitHub Emojis API and makes a report of missing ones.

PRs welcome!

Hey @rxaviers, I edited some of the formatting on this gist here. Feel free to incorporate the edits (GitHub doesn't support pull requests for gists so you'd have to manually copy and paste them in).

I fixed the first line of every table so that it wouldn't be interpreted as a header (right now the first line is centered and bolded) and also bolded the section titles:

People

:b lush:

(👉 GitHub Flavored Markdown :EMOJINAME:)

<g-emoji class="g-emoji" alias="blush" fallback-src="https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f60a" data-cs="2" data-kind="parent" data-rs="2">

(👉 HTML in markdown)

all render as exactly the same thing (same HTML element whose code is shown above):

Nice Gist! 😊 I have deployed an app that uses the Github Emoji API (<https://api.github.com/emojis>) so they are updated directly from Github and allows to search for them. Use it if you feel like! <https://github-emoji-list.herokuapp.com/> 🙌

Thank you for the work! Great resource.
I agree with the sentiment that

When you came looking for a decent info, warning, note, tip emoji set for your wiki, but found parking, restroom, speedboat, handbag... I start to wonder if maybe I'm doing it all wrong...

Still, thanks for the effort!

I am currently using these:

For those looking for the source material, Github's Emoji API (organized by shortcode):

<https://guides.github.com/pdfs/markdown-cheatsheet-online.pdf>

From Github's Official Cheat Sheet:

EMOJI

GitHub supports emoji!

To see a list of every image we support, check out <https://www.emoji-cheat-sheet.com>

And <https://www.emoji-cheat-sheet.com> redirects to <https://www.webfx.com/tools/emoji-cheat-sheet/>.

<https://api.github.com/emojis>

It looks like this:

  "+1": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f44d.png?v8",
  "-1": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f44e.png?v8",
  "100": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f4af.png?v8",
  "1234": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f522.png?v8",
  "1st_place_medal": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f947.png?v8",
  "2nd_place_medal": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f948.png?v8",
  "3rd_place_medal": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f949.png?v8",
  "8ball": "https://github.githubassets.com/images/icons/emoji/unicode/1f3b1.png?v8"

I was hoping that somewhere there'd be a table that maps the unicode id, such as 1f949 to the categories, but as per <https://unicode.org/emoji/charts/full-emoji-list.html> it looks like the randoms are not necessarily in any particular order (probably because new things get added sequentially and skip blocks).

There is no `:black_square:` or `:white_square:`.

Black Squares

- `▪` `:black_small_square:`
- `■` `:black_medium_small_square:`
- `■` `:black_medium_square:`
- `■` `:black_large_square:`

White Squares

- `◻` `:white_small_square:`
- `◻` `:white_medium_small_square:`
- `◻` `:white_medium_square:`
- `◻` `:white_large_square:`
